

LOGAN INTERNATIONAL INC. SUPPORTS WWP

Calgary, Alberta January 26, 2015 – Logan International Inc. (TSX: LII)

Logan International Inc. employees raised $800 to support the Wounded Warrior Project™ at our 2014 Houston office Christmas party. We feel that this donation is the start of many from Logan, and are excited to see it put towards the many programs needed for our veterans, including the Warriors to Work program and Transition Training Academy, which delivers resources that help injured servicemen and women develop skills for a successful shift to the civilian workforce.

States Dave MacNeill, President and CEO, “Every day, the service men and women of our country make enormous sacrifices to protect our way of life. Logan International Inc. firmly believes in its responsibility to honor and support our troops, with a particular importance towards those who need it most – the wounded warriors.”

One of the best ways to help a serviceperson transitioning back to civilian life is to assist them in integrating as seamlessly as possible, to help them pick up right where they left off. However, the adjustment is often easier said than done. This is why we have partnered with the Wounded Warrior Project™ (WWP) to provide support towards those programs that offer career guidance and opportunities to our nation’s heroes.

The ability to provide the foundation for our wounded warriors to begin the next stage of their lives resonates deep from within our core company values, and is one small way of letting them know that their sacrifices have not gone unnoticed by the Logan International Inc. employees.
